Promoting

Gradewell has used the Fleet operator recognition scheme to aid in continuing development of the company with the training offered by it.

By using the guidelines set out in the Fleet operator recognition scheme Companies will be fully compliant operators.

It is for this reason that Gradewell actively promotes the FORS to suppliers and customers.

Any supplier for Gradewell is encouraged to join the FORS and have at the very least Bronze level accreditation, or working towards it.

The clear majority of Gradewell customers are part of the FORS and have further encouraged the company to strive for excellence by requesting higher levels of accreditation.

Any sub-contractor working on behalf on Gradewell also must have the same level of accreditation, training and technology on its vehicles as Gradewell.
